Mother Nature has not been kind of late and the effect has been felt in many communities and workplaces across the country. What should be done to be sure your institution and employees are prepared for a disaster? The objective and challenge is to ensure the least amount of disruption in providing financial services to your community.

This webinar will assist you in developing a Disaster Management and Recovery Policy and Plan and address the critical, but “common sense” procedures you need to have in place. It will also cover testing and training your employees so they will be prepared to follow procedures in the event of a disaster.

Continuing Education: Attendance verification for CE credits provided upon request.

HIGHLIGHTS

- A sample Disaster Recovery Plan will be included (set up, testing, and running practice drills with employees)
- A sample Business Impact Analysis will be a provided
- Off-site location considerations in the event operations need to be run from another location
- Safe deposit box issues – liability issues for your institution in case of flooding or damage
- Access to your financial services during or directly after a natural disaster
- Security issues to consider during or directly after a natural disaster
- Developing a risk assessment for Disaster Recovery

NOTE: The participant materials will be provided in MS Word so that sample documents and language can be more easily incorporated into your own policies and procedures.
